

Information for

Senior & Junior Experts

Avconet Ltd., the Aviation Consultancy Network, aims to connect the right people with the right project opportunities by means of global personalized networking. This way long term partner- and client relationships will generate growth, income and mutual beneficial intercultural interaction.

What is the function of the Avconet Senior or Junior Expert Pool ?

In order to act as an Aviation Consultancy Network on a global scale, enabling real know-how transfer between countries, economies and cultures, connecting Senior know-how with the latest research results from Universities and aviation related research institutes brought in from our Juniors and Interns - we want to offer a platform through which all members can create project opportunities. This can be by teaming up and using the synergies of such a network jointly – or it can be just by normal application for a specified business opportunity.

The founder of the idea of Avconet brings along some 15 years of professional experience (in Airline and HR) and about the same time in international exposure to various cultures. Some of the very positive experiences throughout his career were based on real empathic Senior Coaching through some of the toughest business experiences – but always based as well on a very trustful and respectful working climate and environment, allowing others to grow on those experiences.

With Avconet Ltd. we are trying to bring back through our offer some of the above mentioned spirit. Therefore we build on quality and long term relationship through recommendations rather than on fast growth.

What are the expectation / requirements towards Senior or Junior Experts ?

- Relevant (5 – 20 years) experience in at least one of the business fields of Avconet or as Junior – being student in one of the fields, ‘fit’ in software applications and ready to support the Senior experts during their missions
- Proven intercultural competence
- Proven recommendations from at least 2 or more clients you have worked for
- Extensive Project Management experience
- Ready to share your project references through the network
- Ready to support Junior Consultants in their career path
- Ready to contribute actively to the healthy growth of the network – before, during and after an assignment
- Regular updates of your CV data
